Descriptif de l'éditeur

Don't give away sensitive information, valuable corporate trade secrets, business plans, personal files and letters, or traces of Internet or newsgroup activity with the old computers that you or your company resells, donates, reassigns to different departments or removes from operation. Deleting all the files or even formatting the hard disk is not enough to stop people to restore information using basic recovery programs. East-Tec DisposeSecure however removes all traces of data from the computer hard disk, by overwriting and destroying beyond recovery every sector and bit of information. Data is removed according to U.S. Department of Defense standards or custom user security levels. East-Tec DisposeSecure can be operated either from a bootable media (floppy disk, CD, DVD) to sanitize any drive or partition from the computer, or through the network to sanitize a large number of computers, centralize sanitization logs (reports) on the server and more. The computers can be sanitized regardless of the file system or the operating system. Whether you want to prevent identity theft, protect your privacy or stop competitors from stealing your sensitive information, East-Tec DisposeSecure offers the solution.
